The small/mini size of the knife makes it very mobile and swift handling, plus special bolster with hand guard feature provides comfort and safety in even rough and reckless usage. Trekkers, travelers, explorers, wanderers, hunters, naturalist and other wilderness lovers who want to travel light yet carry all the needed; where safety and survival is no.1, should not miss KHHI's 4"bladed MUK as you never know what's in store for you out there...

Blade:: Basic and typical look. Semi polished for good look and easy maintenance. Steel made from SUV's suspension steel so very hard and strong.

Handle:: Unlike other knives of KHHI, MUK has steel hand-guard bolster for safety and better look. The erected steel fixture divides blade and handle, as an obstruction to safe guard hand within the handle area. The full flat tang goes all the way through the handle. Reinforced with two steel rivets from both sides. An empty see through hole is also made as a lanyard hole. The contours and curvature of the handle as seen in the picture also provides the best possible and comfortable grip.

Scabbard:: Simple and basic. Made from hard sturdy material “Codura”. A loop belt for the handle is fixed to secure the knife inside the scabbard. The 3 inches approx belt loop space makes possible for any size belt to go through. It is washable and waterproof too.

It is one of the new products introduced by KHHI under this category. It is actually the copied version of a famous knife made on demand by some loyal, regular customers of KHHI. It has also been made to exhibit the skill and standard of the company as one of the best knives makers, and also to enhance its product variety range. The usefulness of this knife goes from tactical to jungle warfare to safari to domestic.

“Chuppi” is a local word in Nepalese that means a sharp pointed knife (head portion) mainly used for stabbing, offensive action etc. It literally means the harsh/strong version of the knife that is used against the enemy to assault. The front portion of the blade is made similar to that of a “Chukuri” with its back curve area equally sharp like belly intended for lethal application. The 5 inch high carbon blade has about 5 inch long full flat tang that goes all the way through the horn handle. The tang is further riveted to strengthen the whole fixture. The exclusive designated curves and contours of the knife give a perfect sturdy and easy grip to the handle. A lanyard hole facility is also in place; for a leather thong to go through it and round the using hand’s wrist.

“Chuppi” comes with plain black “Codura” fabric scabbard with belt loop at the back. A small loop is also made to go around the handle to hold it firmly once the knife is tucked in. The traditional wooden frame is tucked inside the fabric to firmly and safely hold the knife. “An honest and loyal companion in difficult times”

It is one of the new items introduced by Khukuri House Handicraft Industry under this category. It is actually a copied version of a famous knife made on demand by some regular customers. It has also been made by KHHI to exhibit the skill and standard of the company as one of the best knives makers. The usefulness of this knife goes from domestic to jungle warfare to safari to tactical.

“Churi” in Nepalese means “Knife”. It literally means a domestic or household cutting too. Nonetheless, it also comes very handy for trekking and traveling. The 5 inch high carbon blade has about 5 inch long full flat tang that goes all the way through the wooden handle. The tang is further riveted to strengthen the handle. “Churi” comes with a special embossed buffalo leather scabbard with belt loop at the back to prevent scratches etc while drawing in and out. A small leather loop is also made to go around the handle to hold it firmly once the knife is tucked in. “Churi” is a complete and compact mini utility tool at its very best. A metallic chape is fitted to prevent the naked scabbard’s tip from penetrating flesh and also to protect the scabbard. It also gives a fine look to the knife.

KHHI's long years in the business has successfully achieve a great feat and has managed to earn a lot of loyal and frequent customers who have been regularly buying since they first discovered KHHI. Amongst its many dedicated buyers one of them is Mr. John McCurdy who lives in the US and who himself is a professional knife maker and collector. Over the years he has done many successful projects with KHHI and one of them is the "McKnife Project", which KHHI named after Mr. John McCurdy. McKnife became an instant hit on its debut and managed to win hearts and hands of hundreds including the collectors and critics in no time. The project was a BIG success and highly inspiring. And hence now with the permission from Mr McCurdy, KHHI has also started reproducing the design for its direct selling and thus has added yet another outstanding knife to its amazing product line that we believe would bring joy and thirst to all knife lovers and users. The McKnife's creative design and superb strength with valuable features make it a complete outdoor knife to carry and carter the needful that would cheat or challenge the fatality about to unfold.

The Mcknife is 5 inch long, has a pointed shape and curves gently as it goes towards the point (see photo). It's has a steep bevel and thus a very sharp edge where as the backside bevel is blunt and has several cuts as shown in the photo. The blade has good temper (54-56 RC) put for hard and rough use and has unpolished finishing objected for the same. McKnife comes with unpolished finishing water buffalo horn handle. It has a thick full flat tang all the way in which two plates of horns are firmly glued by epoxy and further the fixture is secured by 3 aluminum and brass (washer) rivets. A naked (see through) hole is also avail to facilitate a lanyard motive. This section is made black (anti-rust painted) to repel rust and hence is always hassle free. The steel guard in the top of the handle protects the user's hand from slipping towards the danger zone (sharp edge). The solid steel guard works like a divider restricting the hand within the handle section – where it must always be.

2 mm ALL leather is used to make it sheath for the first time – simple and strong. Traditional wooden frame is discarded and replaced by this thick leather, as shown in the inset. An extra large belt loop (holder) is made to fit even the biggest ones. The handle belt strap fitted to lock the handle simply makes carrying easier and running swifter. Brass rivets are positioned in the vital parts to ensure that the sheath remains together forever.

An outstanding utility hand crafted piece that you don't wanna miss or mess with...

(Note: Please ignore the black leather sheath in the main photo. The new sheath is available from 1st Mar 2012 onwards only)

Survival Knife (Live)

Simple yet superb, handy and important - "Don't go out in the jungle without it..."

- BLADE SIZE: 6 inches approx.
- THICKNESS: 5mm approx.
- ACTUAL WEIGHT: 250 grams
- OVERALL WEIGHT: 350 grams
- SHIPPING WEIGHT: 600 grams
- FUNCTION: Defending, Gift, Indoor, Outdoor, Stabbing, Trekking
- ORIGIN: Dharan, Eastern Nepal (released on 3rd Mar 2006)
- CATEGORY: KHHI Knives
- BLADE FINISHING: Mirror Polish

It's the survival and utility knife that would help you come out of the erratic of the wilderness and its harshness. This 6" long bladed straight knife is designed to tackle the unfamiliar and difficult situations one may go through when lost and alone, helpless and hopeless; hence the name. It comes equally handy for hunting, trekking, camping and for other outdoor adventurous activities too. The blade is highly polished so that reaction (mainly rust) can be prevented as much even when the blade comes hard in use in water or fluids. The unpolished handle is the source of the strength of this KHHI's survival knife as it is unpolished for better and easier grip - the full flat tang technique boosted with rivets is applied with an aim to make the handle as strong as possible - and the handle's shape is specifically designed so as to give stiff grip yet rest to the palm of the using hand. The scabbard of the knife is also unique, made from hard and strong waterproof "Cordura" material used to make luggage, backpacks and others. The scabbard has belt loop to fasten the handle and reinforcement stitches and patches to strongly enclose the blade within it. The knife is simple yet superb, handy and important thus "Don't go out in the jungle without it..."

[Please be notified that due to severe scarcity of HORN in the market, its constant rising price and now it being banned by the Indian Govt. we are compelled to replace the horn handle of this khukuri/knife by Brown Indian Rosewood handle, unlike as shown in the photo with effective from 26th May 2013 onwards only]

Materials / Features:

"Cordura" nylon fabric, riveted full flat tang unpolished brown Indian rosewood handle, highly polished blade.
